

In an period where we are trying to promote business growth and the importance of small business, why must we try strike down regulations put in place to protect them? By removing these regulations we strike at the heart of the American Dream, to own your own business. I for one am a major support of local businesses, such as local ISPs, where they are people who live locally, support locally, and are locally accoutable. Again I ask do not repeal the regulations, they will unneccessarily hurt the local business owner and the consumer. Historically monopolies have shown to only benefit one group, those who own the monopoly.
